"The Divorce Question."

Wm. Anthony McGair's stirring play ran 10 performances at McVickers theatre in Chicago and received the unanimous support alike of press,

public and clergy.

The theme of the play is an argument against divorce, the main idea being that the next generation must be considered in laws enacted by the present generation, taking the stand that the purpose of marriage in the proclamation of humanity by the production of children and the definite and unrefuted idea contained is that every child has a right to its parents.

The story of the play shows that patience phase of life wherein marriage has been adopted as the legiti-mate means of adultery and wherein two children are sacrificed to the selfishness of the new moral code.

The degradation to which the homeless children fall, the horrible agony of the homeless, parentless girl who becomes the victim of white slavery and who cannot be rescued into the home of her parents because of their subsequent marriage and children.

This condition is only equalled by the wild grief of the boy who has become addicted to morphine in order to drown cognizance of a terrible existence.

The depths to which these poor children have fallen seems more terrifying when the priest produces statistics to show that he but two of a million and a half of such cases brought about by divorce.

The remorse of the parents upon seeing the result of their actions also becomes pitiful, but their selfish ideas of life prevent them from undoing

what they have done, until when almost too late they see the enormity of their offense and through the efforts of the priest strive to save the remainder of their flesh and blood. "The Divorce Question" will be at Daly's

Theatre Thursday, Oct. 21st.

NEWS FROM NEARBY PLACES.

Stevens Point Journal.—Sheriff

Guyard went out to the town of Albion today and brought Joseph

Klemens to the city for the purpose of having him examined as to his sanity. It is understood that the application for his examination was made with the approval of the members of his family. Klemens, it is said, is laboring under the hallucination that almost everybody is against him. Klemens is the man who, in March, 1907, killed the bodies of his wife and one of his children in the woods on his farm. The matter was made the object of a coroner's inquest and when the jurors and others went to his place, he took them to the woods and showed them where the bodies were buried. In response to inquiries, Klemens said the bodies were not enclosed in coffin or box.

"What is the use? A coffin or box would rot, when a person is dead he is dead and that is all there is to it," he said. The mother and child died of pneumonia the same time.

The bodies were exhumed and it was found that both the mother and child died of pneumonia. Klemens was arrested and fined $500 for burying the bodies without first having obtained a permit to do so.

Merrill News.—One of the largest timber deals ever consummated in the county occurred this week when the

Rib Lake Lumber Company of this city and Rib Lake, purchased the holdings of the old Wisconsin Central, now the Soc. Inc., comprising over 14,000 acres of land in the town of Somo and Tonalawak. The consideration for the property is not stated in the deed which was filed in the office of the Register of Deeds

Monday morning by Geo. N. Harter, treasurer and general manager of the company. The tract comprises some of the best standing timber in this locality.

The Southern Wisconsin Power company is considering plans for an extensive enlargement of its plant at Kilbourn, which means that Wisconsin will have the largest hydroelectric plant in the northwest. With the present amount of water power

the company is able to operate four dynamoes of 1600 kilowatt or 8000 horse power. It is planned to add another dynamo of larger capacity, giving an additional 2000 horse power.

This would extend the company's radius of operations of at least fifty miles.

NEKOOSA

(From the Times)

The proposition to build a bridge across the Wisconsin river at Nekoosa is again being agitated with renewed vigor. Last Thursday two civil engineers and a contractor from Madison were here, the first mentioned making a thorough survey for such a bridge and the contractor presenting an estimate of the cost of the structure. The bridge on which estimates were given would be a first class steel bridge, which the contractor guarantees he can build for $40,000. Since writing the above we learn that the contractor gave the figures mentioned simply as a rough estimate of what the probable cost would be, and he will furnish a definite estimate of the actual cost of the structure at a later date. A number of our most progressive citizens were out to watch the surveyors,

nearly all of whom expressed themselves in favor of a bridge.

Mr. Hoffman was apparently hurt

The most startling exhibition of effrontery of this campaign of many surprises was given by Governor McGovern when he opened his speaking campaign in Milwaukee last week.

He appealed to Democrats to desert their party and support him for reelection. Only a few days before the Governor had falsely accused the national democratic standard bearer, Governor Wilson, of being "a free trader democrat who believes in the antiquated theory of states rights and rolls for his election upon the support of boss ridden political machines."

Governor McGovern realizes that his jump from the brutal socialism of the G. O. P. elephant to the murky confusion of the Roosevelt bar barrel of republicanism and to lands himself to believe that to make up for this detection by hoodwinking the democratic vote for him. But Governor McGovern is going to be disappointed. The democrats are going to stay in the democratic party this year and vote for Judge John C. Karrer and the other candidates on the democratic ticket.

Governor McGovern is destined to go down in history as the man who broke his neck politically by trying to face both ways at the same time.—Applon Crescent.

Do You Know?
That Wisconsin is the foremost dairy state in the union?
That according to U. S. government estimates there are within our state 1,504,000 cows, representing sixty million seven hundred and sixty-two thousand dollars?

That Wisconsin produces annually nearly one half of all the cheese manufactured in the United States, approximately one hundred and fifty million pounds, selling for over twenty-two million dollars?

That one hundred and thirty-one million and forty-nine thousand pounds of butter, worth thirty-six million six hundred and twenty-eight thousand dollars was produced in Wisconsin in 1911?

Knowing these facts we call your attention to the International Dairy Show to be held in the Auditorium, Milwaukee, Oct. 31-31, 1912.

Education is the feature of this show, combining the greatest display of cattle ever made and the most modern machinery shown under one roof. Free lectures on all subjects in dairy-lag.

"The Divorce Question."

Gault & MacVittie will produce Wm. Anthony McGuire's stirring play "The Divorce Question" which ran 10 performances at McVie's theatre in Chicago and received the unanimous support alike of press, public and clergy.

The theme of the play is an argument against divorce, the main idea being that the next generation must be considered in laws enacted by the present generation, taking the stand that the purpose of marriage is the procreation of humanity by the production of children and the definite and unrefuted idea contained in that every child has a right to its parents.

The story of the play shows that pathetic phase of life wherein marriage has been adopted as the legitimate means of adultery and where two children are sacrificed to the selfishness of the new moral code.

The degradation to which the homeless children fall, the horrible agony of the homeless, parentless girl who becomes the victim of white slavery and who cannot be received later into the home of her parents because of their subsequent marriage and children.

This condition is only equalled by the wild grief of the boy who has become addicted to morphine in order to drown cognizance of a terrible existence.

The depth to which these poor children have fallen seems more pathetic when the priest produces statistics to show that they are but two of a million and a half of such cases brought about by divorce.

The remorse of the parents upon seeing the result of their selfish ideas becomes pitiful, but their selfish ideas of life prevent them from undoing what they have done, until when almost too late they see the enormity of their offense and through the efforts of the priest strive to save the remnants of their flesh and blood. "The Divorce Question" will be at Daly's Theatre Thursday, Oct. 31st.

Cranberry Profits Large.
Madison, Wis., Oct. 18.—Ninety per cent of the cranberry crop of Wisconsin is handled by co-operative companies which net an average return of $5,000 per year to each of their members.

"Thirty-three thousand barrels of cranberries," explains John Sinclair of the Wisconsin state board of public affairs in a recent report on "Agricultural Co-operation," were marketed during the season of 1911, returning to the 40 growers a little more than $6 a barrel. In other words, more than $200,000 was returned to the forty men in the cranberry business in this state—or the remarkable average returns of $6,000 each. This fact will be more significant when it is realized that the total expenses are only from one-eighth to one-tenth of the receipts. Much of the success of this movement is due to the organizing efforts of John A. Gaynor, of Grand Rapids, at the present time secretary of the Wisconsin Sales company.

Results similar to those obtained through co-operation by the cranberry growers were also secured by the fruitmen and orchardists who marketed their crops co-operatively. Some of the more important co-operative enterprises for Wisconsin fruit growers besides "the largest and oldest," the Sparta Growers' association organized in May, 1896, are the Wisconsin Cranberry Sales company, already mentioned, the Door County Fruit exchange, the Bayfield Peninsula Fruit association and the Washburn Fruit Growers' association.

Want Sleeper Service Changed.
A dispatch from Milwaukee says that residents of Grand Rapids, Wausau, Merrill and Tomahawk are preparing to petition the Wisconsin railroad commission for a restoration of sleeper service from Milwaukee to Tomahawk on the train leaving here for Minneapolis at 1:15 a. m. over the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway.

The train passes New Lisbon in time to connect with the Valley division train there, but despite this fact the St. Paul people insist on leaving the Valley division sleeper on the train leaving here at 8:40 a. m. at night, and allowing it to lie for four hours in the yards at Lisbon.

Because the sleeper leaves here so early in the evening residents along that line are compelled to use up nine and ten hours for trips which only occupy five and six hours of actual railway travel. They are also prevented from going to places of entertainment here in the evening because the train leaves here so early.

Up to about a year ago the Valley division sleeper was always midnight to the St. Paul road on the midnight train. In August of last year, however, the company began pulling the car on the first section of the Pioneer Limited, alleging at the time that it was only a temporary make-shift and that soon the midnight service would be restored. Over a year has gone by, however, and the sleeper still remains on the early train, much to the inconvenience of Valley division residents. Now they are going to the commission and complain of a service which keeps them nine hours on the route for a five hour journey.

With the present amount of water power the company is able to operate four dynamos of 1500 kilowatt or 8000 horse power. It is planned to add another dynamo of larger capacity, giving an additional 2000 horse power. This would extend the company's radius of operations of at least fifty miles.

NEKOOSA
The proposition to build a bridge across the Wisconsin river at Nekoosa is again being agitated with renewed vigor. Last Thursday two civil engineers and a contractor from Madison were here, the first mentioned making a thorough survey for such a bridge and the contractor giving an estimate of the cost of furnishing an estimate of the cost of the structure. The bridge on which estimates were given would be a first class steel bridge, which the contractor guarantees he can build for $400,000. The contractor gave the figures mentioned simply as a rough estimate of what the probable cost would be, and he will furnish a definite estimate of the actual cost of the structure at a later date. A number of our most progressive citizens were out to watch the surveyors, nearly all of whom expressed themselves in favor of a bridge.

Wednesday morning, October 28, at 10 o'clock, Roy Bagby of Grand Rapids and Miss Bertha Bohm, of Nekoosa were united in the bonds of holy wedlock, Rev. Edward S. Gilbert of the Congregational church performing the ceremony. The marriage occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Henden, Miss Amelia Bohm, sister of the bride, and Wm. Henden, acted as bridesmaid and best man to the newly wed couple.

David Hoffman, a Polish resident of this place, was killed while on the road to Kellner last Thursday, Oct. 24. He and Lawrence Disler were together with their teams and loads of goods for Ed. Hoffman, David's son, who is moving on a farm over towards Kellner. They were having considerable difficulty all along the road and just how the accident happened is not known but the two men were found in the road in a stupor condition near their halted teams.

Mr. Hoffman was apparently hurt and was taken home immediately and died in a short time before a physician could arrive. It is supposed that he was hurt in a fall from his wagon and perhaps run over by the wheels of the heavily loaded wagon.

The funeral was held Sunday at the Catholic church at Plover and attended by a very large crowd of old friends and neighbors. Mr. Hoffman was a peaceful neighbor and a fair and square man and will be greatly missed by his friends and family.

Edwin Parks has moved on the Swenson place for the winter.

UNMASKING THE TARIFF DELUSION

Franklin Pierce Shows That Labor Is Not Benefited by Unjust Tax.

MANUFACTURER KEEPS PROFIT

Proof of Democratic Platform's Soundness Cited in Reports of Wage Investigations.

By FRANKLIN PIERCE.

For a hundred years of our history the manufacturers, believing that they received a benefit from the protective tariff, have ignorantly devised plausible pretenses for imposing increased prices upon the necessities of life. At first they said that industry in our country was in its infancy and needed protection. When those industries had become strong and needed no aid the manufacturers invented the theory that the foreigner paid the duty. This theory was exploded, and they declared that cheap clothing meant cheap men and was not a blessing.

Driven from every one of these indefensible positions, their final and only argument left today is that the tariff is imposed upon foreign imports to enable the manufacturer to increase his profits and pay higher wages.

The Democratic platform declares that:

"In the most highly protected industries, such as cotton and wool, steel and iron, the wages of the laborers are the lowest paid in any of our industries."

Proof of this statement is found in reports of many recent official investigations of wages in the United States.

Wages in Cotton Industry.
Under the existing Payne-Aldrich tariff law actual imports of cotton cloth paid in 1910 average duties of 50 per cent.

In 1905, when work and wage conditions in the cotton industry were exceptionally good, the wages of 202,211 cotton mill operatives in the United States—men, women and children—averaged only $7.47 a week. The average wage for men was but $7.71 a week, for women $6.73 and for children $5.21.

As to the profits, a report on the cotton mill industry with total capitalization of $25,110,000 and total surplus of $21,363,591, paid in nine years dividends averaging 22 per cent.

The cotton manufacturers turned out in 1905 $412,151,218 worth of goods and sold in wages therefor $14,437,955, or 21 per cent of the value of the finished product.

Extension of Wool Tariff.
Outside of the duties on two or three commodities of comparatively little importance, the duties on woolen cloth are the highest of any in the tariff schedule. According to Senator Reed Smoot, owner of a woolen mill at Provo, Utah, and chairman of the finance committee in charge of tariff legislation in the senate, wearing apparel valued at 30 cents a pound now pays 206.25 per cent duty.

This and other correspondingly high duties on the manufacturers of wool are made to enable the manufacturer to pay his labor an increased wage over those of foreign countries. But the duty on woolen goods is nearly five times the entire labor cost, while the American manufacturers in 1905 paid in wages only 18 per cent of the total value of their production.

At Lawrence in this most highly protected industry the laborers were obliged to strike even for a living wage. Thousands of adult males were receiving only from $5 to $8 a week and many only $5 to $6 a week. As a result of the strike the American Woolen company gave its employees slight increases in wages.

The wool tariff bill vetoed by President Taft reduced the duties on raw wool from 42.25 to 29 per cent and on manufactures of wool from 87.65 to 43.36 per cent. Mr. Taft said he vetoed it because the proposed rates did not comply with the findings of the tariff board. Senator La Follette contradicted the president, saying that the proposed rates varied from 1 per cent, lower to 11.6 higher than the tariff board's findings justified.

Low Wages in Steel.
Manufacturers of iron and steel in 1905 paid in wages only 18 per cent of the total value of their production, while the duty thereon would average about 45 to 47 per cent, and on all metals it now averages 34.51 per cent.

American wages are really the cheapest wages in the world when you take into account the amount of production per man.

An illustration of this appears in the Stanley report, investigating the steel trust, as follows:

"The labor cost of producing pig iron in Pennsylvania fell from $1.25 a ton in 1902 to 82 cents a ton in 1905, yet the realized value of the pig iron output was $1.54 in 1902, whereas it was $1.44 in 1905. In other words, pig ironworkers in 1902 got $1.25 for producing only $1.54 worth of pig iron and in 1905 only 82 cents for producing $1.44 worth."

While thus treating labor the industrial combinations that have grown up under the protection of the tariff have forced the prices of commodities to the highest point the home market would stand. For twelve years they have been unjustly transferring through the protection tariff billions of dollars from the earnings of labor into their own pockets.

When will the laboring man of the country cast off this delusion that the tariff is for their benefit and with their votes strike down this monstrous injustice?

Can't Get Away From Them.
"The proof of the pudding is in the eating; you can't get away from that," says an advertisement. And the Manhattan Mercury adds: "There are a lot more equally true bits of wisdom from."—Kansas City Star.

Unprofitable Sport.
"Fossoms are abundant around Wauwatosa," says the Wauwatosa Tribune, "but a man in that neighborhood went out hunting the other night and after his dogs got after something he cut down two trees and finally ran his own cat into the dining room at his own home."

Too Much Taffy Is Bad.
It is not good to eat much honey; so for men to search out their own glory is grievous.—Proverbs of Solomon, xxv:7.

Important Ocean "Crop."
When the herring season is at its height about 5,000 miles of net are set nightly in the North sea.

Who Should be Allowed to Vote

Every woman should be allowed to take an examination, and if she is mentally qualified, be allowed to vote on all matters on which men now vote.

It might be stated parenthetically that all men should be allowed to take the same examination, and if they qualify they should be allowed to vote the same as the women.

In other words, the right of suffrage should be extended to all persons who are citizens of the United States who are able to pass an examination that shows them capable of voting intelligently.

This idea of allowing negroes, Chinamen, and foreigners of every description, regardless of their mental ability, help to elect the officers of the country is all wrong. And the mere fact that a man or woman is born in this country should not help him out any if he cannot tell intelligently why he is voting and what he is voting for.

The confining of the ballot to these persons who are qualified to vote would not work any hardship on anybody, and it might have a tendency to induce others to raise their standard of education to the required level, and thus do something for the individual as well as the community at large.

Maybe when the women get to voting they will work for the recognition of mental ability as a qualification for the voter and thus do something for their country that the men have not seen fit to bring about so far.

To Prevent Damage by Flood.
Checking floods in the Wisconsin river by means of the dams is said to be the plan favored by U. S. officials.

It is said the power companies will be obliged to open the flood gates of the many dams and empty the reservoirs promptly at first notice of an approaching flood. Then before the flood can reach dangerous height or do any serious damage all these big empty basins will have to be filled. By the time the flood has filled the dozen or more reservoirs it is likely to be under control.

Writing from Friendship, W. Jackson Bell says: "I have had the matter up continuously through our congressmen and engineering department at Washington. There is assurance that the U. S. government shortly will take action along lines suggested."

"By this means there will be but little chance for large floods to occur, as the water will be regulated by all the dams of which there are some dozen along the entire river."

My position has made clear to those who cared to look into the matter from the fact that all power plants built have an effect to make the river more sluggish and slow for many miles beyond its back water and this was clearly shown during this season by the Wisconsin power plant at Kilbourn to the extent of territory covered by water not formerly occupied."

Wouldn't Commit Himself.
Sir Thomas G. Shangnessy, president of the Canadian Pacific Ry., who owns the Soo, was in Milwaukee last week.

The story to the effect that the Soo intended to complete its cross state line, Grand Rapids, Portage, Milwaukee, and connect Chicago and Minneapolis with St. Paul and Minneapolis by a straight new short route to the twin cities, was neither confirmed nor denied by Sir Thomas.

When asked regarding the building of the Soo extension, Sir Thomas said that he did not care to discuss it.

"I do not care to say anything regarding the affairs of the Soo road," said he. "Perhaps the officials of the road have decided to do this, and perhaps they have not. It is not my place to give out information concerning their affairs."

"I would rather leave all information to be given out by President Pennington of the Soo, Mr. Pennington will be in Milwaukee in a few days and will be a more likely subject for cross examination than myself."

Opened Their New Store.
Abel & Podawiltz held a formal opening at their new clothing and goods furnishing goods store on Friday and Saturday and a large crowd of people visited the place both days to see what the boys had to offer.

There was music by the orchestra and decorations of a floral character and those who visited the place on the opening days were given souvenirs and the affair was quite a success from start to finish.

This firm now has a very nice store and there is every reason to think that they will do a good business as they make every possible effort to please their customers and give them good value for their money.

Wautoma Beaten.
There was a game of football in this city on Saturday between the second team of this city and the first team from Wautoma, and Grand Rapids carried off the palm by a score of 51 to 0. Wautoma seemed to be unable to do anything with our boys at all, and the locals had it all their own way from start to finish.

The greatest man is he who chooses the right with an invincible resolution; who resists the sorest temptations from within and without; who bears the heaviest burdens cheerfully; who is the calmest in storms and whose reliance on truth, on virtue, on God, is the most unflinching.—Channing.

LIGHT ON ANCIENT PANIC ARGUMENT

History Demolishes Republican Claim That Democrats Make Hard Times.

1893 WAS UNDER HIGH TARIFF

Every Panic Since the Civil War Has Been a Republican Panic—Lessons From 1907 Upheaval.

The enemies of Democracy are making their anticipated and regularly recurring howl—they are predicting hard times if Woodrow Wilson is elected president on a Democratic tariff revision platform.

The Republicans are claiming all credit for present prosperity.

A glance backward will be worth while at this time.

Every panic since the Civil war originated and developed under Republican rule.

The Republican campaign textbook of 1904 devoted much space to the many business disasters occurring from July, 1893, to November, 1894, intending the public to attribute them to the inauguration of President Cleveland in March, 1893. But the Republicans fail to refer to the fact that the Republican tariff law was in force during more than twelve of the sixteen months of greatest business disasters.

This fact must be remembered—the McKinley tariff bill became a law Oct. 3, 1890, and the first indications of the 1893 panic were seen Nov. 11, 1890, scarcely more than thirty days after the McKinley law was passed, and the panic reached its worst stage in 1893 and early in 1894, during which time the McKinley law was in full force.

Millions Lose Their Jobs.
It may be recalled, too, that the panic of 1873 under Republican rule and in a period of twelve years of high tariff taxation, was most disastrous. It continued five years, 3,000,000 workmen were thrown out of employment and bankruptcy ran riot.

In 1890 the McKinley high tariff bill was passed, and there were 10,073 business failures by 12,324 in 1891. The tariff was raised to nearly 50 per cent, but wages stood still or declined while the cost of necessities advanced.

The most serious labor troubles in the history of the United States have occurred under Republican high tariffs.

Some Lessons From 1907.
The Republican panic of 1907 furnished another forcible refutation of the Republican claim that Democratic administration and hard times, lower tariffs and panics have been co-extensive.

In 1907, in the midst of prosperity, thousands of leading banks, with hundreds of millions on deposit, suspended cash payments. The trouble began as a result of a struggle between great New York financial institutions for business.

The New York post in October, 1907, said:

Condemn Themselves.
"The certain and significant thing is that it will be known as a Republican and high tariff panic. Protest as Republicans may, they will be held responsible. Out of their own mouths the Republican party and the Dingleyites will stand condemned. They fixed in 1890 the standard by which they cannot escape being judged. In the party platform of that year they referred to the panic of 1893, and the hard times following, squarely to charge up the entire accountability to the party in control of the national government, and the political interference was stated with merciless logic: 'Every consideration of public safety and individual interest demands that the government be rescued from the hands of those who have shown themselves incapable of conducting it.'"

"Now, what are the Republicans going to do when the Democrats hand them back their political challenge?"

"A great emergency has come and the high tariff is seen to be of no avail whatever. It was to keep us all right and prosperous."

"Because the country has just got over the results of a Republican panic the president and his friends are urging us to perpetuate the Republican administration," says the Philadelphia Record.

Business Depression.
"As soon as business was checked five years ago the steel corporation, which was encouraged by Mr. Roosevelt to swallow the Tennessee concern, met its most formidable potential competitor, drew its first breath and threw about half its workmen out of employment. Other industries did much the same thing. . . . There was an extensive stoppage of mills in Philadelphia."

"The Republican candidate for congress in the Kensington-Richmond district is using the 'soup houses of 1893' as a means of scaring the wage earners from voting the Democratic ticket. Those soup houses existed under the McKinley tariff. But there have been more recent ones. After 1907 there were soup houses in the Kensington-Richmond district, and everybody who was charitably disposed was begged for contributions to feed the people who were out of employment."

The Hiato.
The architect of the famous Rialto bridge in Venice was Antonio da Ponte. The bridge is a single arch, 90 feet in length, and is exceedingly strong and graceful. It is crossed by means of ascending and descending steps, while on the top are two ranges of shops, dividing the structure into three parallel streets.

Money in Gathering Gum.
A gum hunter gathered 1,300 pounds of spruce gum the last summer in the Adirondack mountains. The most he ever secured in a single day was 30 pounds. His profits may be estimated when it is known that any druggist will gladly pay $1.50 a pound for the gum.

Meehan Farmer Killed

David Hoffman, a well known farmer living about a mile and a quarter south of Mehan station, is dead as the result of an accident which happened at about 1 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

Hoffman was on his way to the home of his son in the town of Grant with a large wagon load of potatoes, when in some way he fell off the wagon and was run over.

He was rendered unconscious and remained in that condition for some time after being removed to his home. Medical assistance was called but he passed away before it arrived about two hours after the accident occurred.

The hay wagon had passed over his body at the chest, no doubt crushing several ribs and causing fatal internal injuries.

The dead man was about fifty-two years of age and had resided near Meehan for eighteen or twenty years. He formerly resided at Cassimir. He is survived by a wife and a large family of children, some of whom are small.

"The Divorce Question"

—In the midst of all the theatrical frivolity comes a play now and then with a moral, a play which—and for a purpose and written with the intention of enlightening a class on a subject that hitherto had received but little thought despite surrounding conditions.

"The Divorce Question" by William Anthony McNair a powerfully written play taking the stand of the Catholic church's opposition to divorce, and proving conclusively that divorce does not obtain the conditions sought for—and particularly is emphasized the parents duty to the children. This strikingly original play will be seen at Daly's Theatre Thursday, Oct. 31.—Advertisement.

Nekoosa Loses Game.

The Nekoosa football team came to this city on Sunday, and played a game with the local team. Nekoosa started out in a whirlwind manner and made a touchdown inside of the first five minutes and then kicked goal, giving them seven points to their credit.

Then Grand Rapids got into the game and made two touchdowns, but failed to kick goal both times, leaving the score 13 to 7 at the end of the game.

Those who saw it report that Nekoosa had much the heavier team.

Progress in Paving.

The piece of macadam near the library building was finished during the fore part of the week and on Tuesday morning the work of pouring the asphalt on the west side road was commenced. Owing to different methods employed on the west side, the work is going forward at a much more rapid rate than it did on the east side, and if the weather is favorable it will be finished up within a short time.

Who Should be Allowed to Vote

Every woman should be allowed to take an examination, and if she is mentally qualified, be allowed to vote on all matters on which men now vote.

It might be stated parenthetically that all men should be allowed to take the same examination, and if they qualify they should be allowed to vote the same as the women.

In other words, the right of suffrage should be extended to all persons who are citizens of the United States who are able to pass an examination that shows them capable of voting intelligently.

This idea of allowing negroes, Chinamen, and foreigners of every description, regardless of their mental ability, help to elect the officers of the country is all wrong. And the mere fact that a man or woman is born in this country should not help him out any if he cannot tell intelligently why he is voting and what he is voting for.

The confining of the ballot to those persons who are qualified to vote would not work any hardship on anybody, and it might have a tendency to induce others to raise their standard of education to the required level, and thus do something for the individual as well as the community at large.

Maybe when the women get to voting they will work for the recognition of mental ability as a qualification for the voter and thus do something for their country that the men have not seen fit to bring about so far.

To Prevent Damage by Flood.

Checking floods in the Wisconsin river by means of the dams is said to be the plan favored by U. S. officials.

It is said the power companies will be obliged to open the flood gates of the many dams and empty the reservoirs promptly at first notice of an approaching flood. Then before the flood can reach dangerous height or do any serious damage all these big empty basins will have to be filled. By the time the flood has filled the dozen or more reservoirs it is likely to be under control.

Writing from Friendship, W. Jackson Bell says: "I have had the matter up continually through our congressmen and engineering department at Washington. There is assurance that the U. S. government shortly will take action along lines suggested."

"By this means there will be but little chance for large floods to occur, as the water will be regulated by all the dams of which there are some dozen along the entire river. My position has made it clear to those who cared to look at the matter from the fact that the power plants built have effect to make the river more sluggish and slow for many miles below its back water and this was clearly shown during this season by the Wisconsin power plant at Kilbourn to the extent of territory covered by water not formerly occupied."

Wouldn't Commit Himself.

Sir Thomas G. Shinghnessy, president of the Canadian Pacific Ry., which owns the Soo, was in Milwaukee last week.

The story to the effect that the Soo intended to complete its cross state line, Grand Rapids, Portage, Mukwonago, and connect Chicago and Milwaukee with St. Paul and Minneapolis by a straight new short route to the twin cities, was neither confirmed nor denied by Sir Thomas.

When asked regarding the building of the Soo extension, Sir Thomas said that he did not care to discuss it.

"I do not care to say anything regarding the affairs of the Soo road," said he. "Perhaps the officials of the road have decided to do this, and perhaps they have not. It is not my place to give out information concerning their affairs."

"I would rather leave all information to be given out by President Pennington of the Soo. Mr. Pennington will be in Milwaukee in a few days and will be a more likely subject for cross examination than myself."

Opened Their New Store.

Abel & Podawiltz held a formal opening at their new clothing and goods furnishing good store on Friday and Saturday and a large crowd of people visited the place both days to see what the boys had to offer.

There was music by the orchestra and decorations of a floral character and those who visited the place on the opening days were given souvenirs and the affair was quite a success from start to finish.

This firm now has a very nice store and there is every reason to think that they will do a good business as they make every possible effort to please their customers and give them good value for their money.

SOMETHING ABOUT OUR CANDIDATES

Short Sketch of the Men Who are Running on the Democratic Ticket.

The Tribune is presenting herewith some pictures of the different men who are running for office on the democratic ticket this fall. Of course the faces of most of these men are familiar to the public, as most of them are more or less prominent in the county and are fairly well known to the public generally.

We feel that there is not a man on the ticket this fall that there is any need of making an apology for. They are all competent men to fill the positions which their friends have nominated them for, and they are not men who are seeking office as a forlorn hope of making a living, but they have all demonstrated their ability along this line for a number of years past. They are good honest, reliable, intelligent men, who, if elected to office, will attend to the business incident thereto the same as they would to any business they were engaged in and give the people service for the dollars that will be paid them, which is what everybody wants.

For the benefit of those readers of the Tribune who are not personally acquainted with the different candidates, we have given a short biographical sketch of each one, so that some idea may be formed of how they have been employed in the past and their fitness for the office for which it is proposed to elect them.

While we do not ask nor expect any man in Wood county to turn down a personal friend for the sake of these men, we do assure them that in casting their vote for them they are voting for a set of men in whom the affairs of the county will not only be perfectly safe, but who will perform the work allotted to them in a manner that will be above reproach.

WOODROW WILSON FOR PRESIDENT

From recent painting by Seymour Thomas.

BERNARD R. GOGGINS

Democratic Candidate for State Senator, Clark and Wood Counties.

Mr. Goggins was born and raised on a farm in Calumet County, Wisconsin. He graduated full course Oshkosh Normal, June 1884 and was Principal of the High School, Grand Rapids, Wood County, 1884-8. Was admitted to practice law on the State Bar examination November 1889. Graduated from College of Law, University of Wisconsin, June 1890, and has since been and now is in active law practice at Grand Rapids. Has never been a politician as that term is ordinarily understood.

Elected District Attorney for Wood County in 1889 and served one term, 1900-1. In speaking of the political situation, Mr. Goggins says: "I believe in shorter sessions of the Legislature and greater economy in State expenditures, and, if elected, will work for the welfare of all the people of the State, wholly uninfluenced by partisan considerations, and will have ever in mind all matters of benefit to the people of this Senatorial District and of Central and Northern Wisconsin."

It is only honest and just to say that the people of Wood County have never before had the privilege of voting for so able a man as Mr. Goggins for the office of state senator. He is not a politician in any sense of the word and never looked for political office of any kind and accepted the nomination for senator only after persistent urging from his friends. His life has been a busy one, he having a large law practice and thru careful work has made a name for himself thru the state as one of its most able attorneys.

It might be argued that Mr. Goggins is too busy a man to look after the affairs of the state and give them the attention that they might receive from a man who has more time to devote to them, but Mr. Goggins' friends know that he is a man who, when he goes into a thing, no matter whether there is any compensation connected with it or not, gives it the best attention that he knows how to do, and that is one of the reasons they want him elected. They feel that this district will be represented in the senate in a manner that it never has been before, and that the interests of this part of the state will be looked out for in a proper manner.

A vote for Mr. Goggins will mean a vote for a man who will prove one of the best lawmakers the state has ever had.

D. D. CONWAY

Democratic Candidate for Member of Assembly.

D. D. Conway, named by the Democratic party as its candidate for Member of Assembly, is a product of Wood County, having been born and raised in the Town of Randolph, and is now forty-four years of age. Mr. Conway is a splendid example of the results attainable by the American boy who is the fortunate possessor of energy, thrift, and ceaseless endeavor. In his early youth he worked on the farm, in the mill, and in the woods. His education, secured entirely thru his own efforts, has been thorough. He attended the Oshkosh Normal School, and then taught and by a thus shortened session the State would be saved Hundreds of Thousands of Dollars.

He believes that Sec. 1492b-10, which was passed by the Republicans at the last legislature, is unfair to the farmers. It provides in substance that, after June 1st, 1913, if a farmer's cattle are found to be infected with tuberculosis, they shall be condemned and slaughtered without any compensation to the unfortunate farmer. If elected, he will introduce a bill to amend this law so that the farmer will be paid at least a part of the value of his stock so condemned. This law was enacted for the benefit of the whole public and therefore the whole public should stand at least a portion of the loss.

ARTHUR J. PLOWMAN

Candidate for Congress, 5th Dist.

Arthur J. Plowman, the democratic candidate for congress in the eighth district, was born in Waupaca county, but for twenty years past has made his home in Elderton, Marathon county. Mr. Plowman is a farmer by profession, and tho he has been thru this part of the county but a couple of times, he has made many friends on these visits who will take a pride in casting a ballot for him on election day.

Very few farmers have ever represented the people down at Washington. These jobs generally go to men who have more money than the average farmer is able to swing, and who are in politics as a business. Maybe if the people would send more farmers down there they would be represented by men who know something about what the needs of the common people are, and not by men who, while they are able to put up a show on the platform and tell all about the bad things that the other fellow did, never seem to be able to remedy any of the faults of government when they are in the position to do so.

Up in Marathon county where they know Mr. Plowman best, he has a multitude of friends, and there is no question but what he will get a big vote there, and the voters of Wood county will do well to vote for him also. Mr. Plowman is a practical man, one who has the courage of his convictions, and if he is elected to office he will do the best he can for his district.

JOHN SCHMITT

Candidate for Register of Deeds

John Schmitt, our candidate for register of deeds is one of the best we have to offer this year, and it was a foregone conclusion from the first that if Mr. Schmitt would take the nomination that he would be elected.

John came to Grand Rapids from Marshfield two years ago when elected to the office of sheriff, and at that time the people of this end of the county did not know much about him. However, after two years residence here it is safe to say that he has a hundred friends now to where he had one then, and that he will go into office with a much bigger majority than he did before.

During the past two years Mr. Schmitt has had charge of the sheriff's office, and notwithstanding the fact that this was his first experience in school three years. Was Clerk of the Circuit Court two terms. Was graduated from the Law School of the University of Wisconsin in 1895, and has successfully practiced law at Grand Rapids since.

He was elected District Attorney of Wood County in 1898 and held that office for two years, during which time by a favorable settlement of the twenty-three Fox River Tax suits pending against the County when he took the office, and by collecting in from different counties what was due Wood County, he collected in all over $12,000, with which the Court House was enlarged and rebuilt without any additional tax levy.

He believes that all the legitimate business of the Legislature can be taken care of in three or four months where stock is slaughtered. His clients are the laboring man and farmer; he has successfully prosecuted many personal injury cases for injured laborers and if elected will diligently look after their interests and hereby pledge himself so to do.

He is an Advocate of sound Progressive principles, and being one of the heavy land owners and tax payers of Wood County, his interests are identical with those of the great majority of voters. A vote for D. D. Conway insures the safe-guarding of those same interests, and he hereby pledges himself to the careful consideration—and if necessary, to the introduction—of measures affecting small interests.

holding public office, he has looked after the affairs of the place in a manner that has been above reproach, and there is little doubt that the people of the county will show their appreciation by electing him to the office of register of deeds. No man need apologize to his friends if he votes for Mr. Schmitt, for he will be casting a ballot for good government in every sense of the word.

WILLIAM H. REEVES

Candidate for County Clerk.

One of the requisites necessary in a county clerk is that he shall be a good accountant, and be able to keep the affairs of the county in such shape that any time they may be gone over and comprehended not only by the general public, but by any man who may succeed him or who may be appointed to check him up. There is an place in the county where poor bookkeeping is so apt to produce a tangle as it is right here in this office.

It was with this fact in mind when the democrats nominated Mr. Reeves for the office of county clerk. He makes a specialty of this sort of business and in past years has proven himself one of the best in this part of the country. Mr. Reeves held the office of county clerk for one term about fourteen years ago, and those people who had anything of a business nature to transact at the county house said he was one of the best clerks the county had ever had at that time. Of course there have been other good county clerks, but this shows that he is a good man. Mr. Reeves has been a resident of Grand Rapids practically all his life, and is a man whom the people can tie to without taking any chances. He is a man whom the Tribune is pleased to recommend to its readers, and we feel that in doing so we are not taking any chances.

MICHAEL KRINGS

Candidate for Surveyor.

Mr. Krings is one of our farmer friends who lives up Abundant way and is well known to many of the older residents of the county as a reliable and responsible man in every way. The position of surveyor could be in no better hands than those of Mr. Krings. As he was placed in nomination too late to have his name put on the ballot in the regular way, it will be necessary to write his name on the ballot if you want to vote for him.

JOHN CEPRESS

Candidate for County Treasurer

John Cepress, the man who was nominated by the democrats for the office of county treasurer, originally came from the town of Sigel, and he has made his home in Grand Rapids for a number of years, where he has been engaged in the butcher business. John is one of those quiet, unassuming fellows who goes about his work and attends to his own business most of the time. During the years he has lived in this city he has made many friends here and established a reputation for honesty and integrity that will go a long way in getting him votes for the office which he now seeks. Our democratic friends may rest assured that they will make no mistake when they cast a vote for Mr. Cepress, for he will make them a good officer, one that they need offer no apologies for in any way.

ARTHUR P. MULROY

Candidate for Clerk of the Court

Mr. Mulroy is one of the bright young men of Grand Rapids, and is well fitted for the position to which he has been nominated. Mr. Mulroy has made his home in Grand Rapids during the past twelve years, and as manager of the Commercial Hotel has a large acquaintance, all of whom he numbers among his friends.

It is hardly necessary for the Tribune to say much in favor of Mr. Mulroy. Since his nomination, in September he has been making an active campaign thruout the county and has met a large number of our residents, and from the comments we have heard from different parts of the county he has made a very favorable impression. He is an active young man, a hustler, and one who attends strictly to the business he has in hand, and if he is elected to the office of clerk of the circuit court, there is no doubt but what he will prove one of the best men who has ever held the office.

The voters of Wood County need have no fear in voting for Mr. Mulroy, for they could not do better in any way.

W. H. GETTS

Candidate for Coroner.

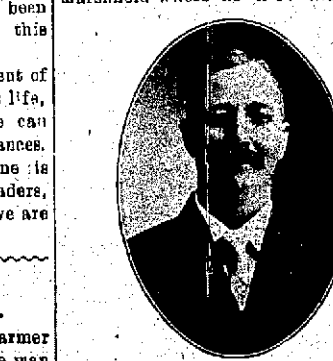

W. H. Getts, the candidate for coroner in one of the old residence of Grand Rapids, and is one of the few left who fought and bled for their country during the war of the rebellion. There is no question but what Mr. Getts would fill the office in a very acceptable manner and would always look out for the interests of the public. As Mr. Getts was placed in nomination too late to have his name placed on the regular ballot, those who want to vote for him will have to write in his name.

MICHAEL GRIFFIN

Candidate for Sheriff.

If there is a man, woman or child in Wood County whom Mike Griffin does not know it is because they are recent arrivals and he has not had a chance to see them as yet. Mr. Griffin comes from Marshfield, but he is a good man in spite of this fact, and has proven himself to be so. Mike was sheriff for two years before and while in the office he conducted the affairs in a manner that was above reproach, and had many more friends who left the office than when he went in, and he had enough to elect him by a good majority when he ran the first time.

Mr. Griffin has long been a resident of Wood County, having lived at Marshfield where he held the office of policeman for many years and where he got much valuable experience that came in handy to him when he occupied the office of sheriff. Mr. Griffin is a man in whom the people may put the utmost confidence, and in voting for him they are helping to put a man into office who is thoroughly competent in every way to discharge the duties that will be imposed upon him.

DEMOCRACY MUST BE A WORTHY INSTRUMENT

People Trust It, Says Woodrow Wilson, and It Must Make Good.

Sen. Glt. N. J.—Woodrow Wilson at the "Little White House" at Sea Girt is daily called upon to demonstrate his ability as a ready speaker.

"There is not a day passes but what he meets various delegations who call to assure him of their support."

In speaking of political machines to the Brooklyn Democratic club Governor Wilson said: "Machines are bad, but an organization may be very good. For instance, I have been surrounded by an organization here in New Jersey while doing my best work. A machine uses its political opportunities for the selfish ends of its members. No members of our organization would ever think of doing that. Public opinion in New Jersey has drawn the distinction. It has killed the machines, and it is going to keep the organization going."

"It seems to me that we are standing in the presence of something high or than substance to the Democratic party. The country has been disappointed in the Republican party, and it is turning to the Democratic party. That party is willing to show the way toward those things which must be realized."

"Some gentlemen seem to find it may to make personalities out of politics, but it seems to me that whenever that is done politics is debased."

"Men who are in search of reform are now resorting to the Democratic party, because, for my own part, I do not know where else they will turn to expect the results. There is no discounting the strength and serviceability of a united party, and the splendid part is that the Democratic party is united."

"Speaking seriously, nothing affords me more genuine pleasure than to receive such greetings from men in Jersey who have at least tested my qualities. Because you have known me at close range and if you will be kind enough to watch for me perhaps the rest of the country will be credulous of your report."

"I have spent a great deal of time since I became governor of New Jersey defending your character. It was supposed in the old days, when the board of guardians was in charge of the state, that you were all of you disposed to give the most monopolistic trusts of the country a great ringing welcome in New Jersey."

"New Jersey was known as the mother of trusts—a very troublesome and questionable family—and I had to spend my time outside New Jersey assuring the people of the Union that it had not been the fault or the disposition of the people of New Jersey that there were certain gentlemen who had undertaken to carry the Republican party in their pockets and to administer independently of the rank and file of Republicans in the state."

"New Jersey is progressive, but the United States is progressive, and we have here merely a delightful sample of the people of the United States."

"Now, these people are not bent on destroying anything, but they are bent on setting everything in order; they are bent upon justice; they are bent upon seeing to it that the people in general are partners of the government, as I was trying to show the other day. And the Democratic party is now placed under a peculiar responsibility. It has to prove that it is the worthy instrument of that zeal on the part of the people of the United States. If it does not prove it now it will never be given another chance to prove it. No party that proves unfaithful to that ideal will ever again be trusted by the people of America. And therefore we are standing at a turning point in our politics. We must make good or go out of business. In the vernacular, it is a case of 'put up or shut up,' because words are going to be discounted. Nothing will be honored except the actual carrying out of such programs as sensible men may unite in for the common benefit."

CLARENCE B. EDWARDS

Candidate for District Attorney

In presenting the name of Clarence B. Edwards to the people for the office of district attorney, the people of Wood county have made a good selection. He has been engaged in the practice of law at Marshfield during the past twelve years, and during that time has conducted himself in such a manner as to gain the confidence of the people of his home town, and those out of town whom he had come in contact with.

Mr. Edwards is not an office seeker in any sense of the word, and he accepted this nomination only after he had been prevailed upon by his friends to do so. However, if he is elected there is no question but what he will give the people an administration of the office that his friends may be proud of. A vote for Mr. Edwards will be a vote for good government in every sense of the word.

Fires and Fire Insurance

Furnaces and coal stoves will soon be in full use after their summer's vacation. Chimneys should be examined well before starting the hot fires required in the cold weather, and above all examine your Fire Insurance Policies to make sure they are in force. If you are not fully insured or not insured at all, see
